

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF SOPOT SUMMIT 2020

I. General Provisions

1. These Regulations [The Regulations] constitute the basis for the organization of the Sopot Summit 2020 [Event], which will take place on July 20-26, 2020 in Warsaw.
2. The exact address and schedule of the Event will be published on <https://sopotsummit.com> [Event Page].
3. The Regulations specify the terms of participation in the Event, including the rights and obligations of its participants and the organizer. If the terms of participation are specified also elsewhere, for instance in the Event description or facility regulations, the Regulations shall supplement such documents and shall be applicable to the extent not governed therein.
4. Organizer of the Event is Mateusz Gołębiowski, conducting business activity under the name of Mateusz Gołębiowski (address: Wiśniowa 4/58, 21-040 Świdnik, REGON: 061623370, NIP: 7123179572) [The Organizer].
5. If the Regulations do not provide otherwise, they shall be binding for all the Event participants, i.e. individuals who register for the Event [The Participant]. For the avoidance of doubt, any person who has expressed their will to enter the facilities where the Event is held and who has been allowed to enter such facilities shall be deemed a Participant.

II. Registration and Participation in the Event

1. Participation in the Event is chargeable for all participants.
2. In order to participate in the Event, the person in question needs to be registered through the application form submitted to the Organiser via an online registration system or otherwise as specified by the Organiser and payment of the appropriate fee for the entry ticket by the date and in the manner specified by the Organiser.
3. Submission of participation in accordance with paragraph 2 above is tantamount to acceptance of the Regulations.
4. In the case of a registration made on behalf of another person and entering another person's data, the individual entering such data guarantees that they have obtained the relevant authorisation for the registration, setting up an account or submitting representations required for the registration; further, such individual shall be responsible for the consequences of entering data not conforming with such authorisation. In the case of registration made for more than one person, the individual making the registration should make separate entries for each of them (with a separate e-mail address for each person registered for the Event).
5. For some types of Participants, for example speakers or guests the Organiser may establish special registration rules or rules governing their access to the facilities, in particular consisting in the registration being made by the Organiser.
6. A minor may participate in the Event only on the basis of the written consent of the person's legal representative.
7. Information and representations connected with the participation in the Event shall be sent to the Participant's e-mail address. The representations sent to such address shall be deemed delivered to the Participant who has been registered with the use of the given address. The Organiser must be notified of any changes to the address.

8. The Participant's data collected at the registration or in connection with the participation in the Event shall be processed in compliance with the Organiser's Privacy Policy which represents an integral part of these Regulations. Each Participant shall read the Privacy Policy available at the following link [https://sopotsummit.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/02/GDPR-INFORMATION-CLAUSE.pdf].

III. Entry ticket and fees

1. Participation in the Event is chargeable.
2. The organizer reserves the right to grant discounts from the basic price. All promotions related to the purchase of a ticket entitling to enter the Event are published on the Event Page.
3. The Organizer allows the purchase of a ticket entitling to lifetime entry to the Event and its subsequent editions, provided they are organized.
4. Entry tickets to the Event are non-transferable and non-refundable, unless the Organiser gives individual consent to transfer the ticket to another person.
5. If the ticket was bought before 01.03.2020, transferring the ticket is allowed without the consent of the Organizer.
6. The entry ticket may be presented in electronic form or in a printed version.
7. The costs of travel, accommodation and meals are covered by the Participant.

IV. Rights and Obligations of the Organiser and of the Participants

1. The Organiser reserves the right to control and verify the Participant's identity and their rights to enter the facilities and to use the Event-related services, e.g. in the form of a request to present an ID. If the Participant has failed to provide all the required data during the registration, refuses to show the entry ticket or the ID, the Organiser or a person authorized to do so may refuse entry to the Event.
2. The Event will be recorded in photographs and with the use of audio/video devices, including potential online broadcasting. Participation in the Event is open; therefore, the Participant's figure or image recorded individually or as an element of the greater picture may be, either deliberately or randomly, documented in photos, as audio or video files, and materials obtained in such a way may be distributed by the Organiser and Event Partners for information and promotional purposes related to the Event, subsequent editions of the Event and activities of the Organiser and Event Partners (including through websites, e-mail and social media). Notwithstanding the above, the Event may also be monitored for security reasons.
3. The Organiser assumes that the Participant taking part in the Event accepts the possibility of the aforementioned recording and usage of their figure and image as an Event participant.

4. If the Participant submits to the Organiser any materials, e.g. photographs or audio/video recordings made during the Event, such submission shall represent authorisation for the Organiser to use them for information and promotional purposes related to the Event. The Participant guarantees that the usage of the aforementioned materials shall not infringe any rights of third parties.
5. The Organiser assures that he will make every effort to guarantee the organisational conditions of the Event in accordance with the description on the Event Page.
6. The Organiser determines the programme and schedule of the Event and reserves the right to make changes to them, even on the day on which the Event is held.
7. Changes in the programme and schedule of the Event referred to above may not be the basis for making financial claims against the Organiser.
8. In the facilities, Participants may move exclusively within publicly available areas and communication tracts marked accordingly, in line with the instructions of the Organiser and of a facility manager.
9. The facilities where the Event is held may not be entered with: firearms, pyrotechnic materials or any other hazardous materials, including those which can lead to fire or damage to property or health of the Participant or of any other individuals.
10. The Organiser shall not be responsible for protecting people and property, i.e. for any accidents, thefts or damage to property within the facilities where the Event is held unless the harm related thereto is attributable exclusively to the Organiser or if in a separate order the Organiser has undertaken to apply specific protection.
11. The Participant undertakes to comply with the requirements of these Regulations, as well as with the security rules, and organizational and technical instructions in force on the premises of the facility where the Event is held.
12. Participants shall bear full financial responsibility for any damage done by them on the premises of the Event venue.

IV. Complaints and Final Provisions

1. If the organization of the Event will be obstructed or blocked by restrictions caused by COVID-19 in Poland the Organiser has the right to change the date of the Event and to cancel the Event.
2. Any complaints related to the exercise of the Participants' rights in connection with participation in the Event must be reported to the Organiser in writing or via e-mail sent to info@sopotsummit.com, within three days as of the Event's completion at the latest, and in any case not later than three days as of the occurrence of a circumstance giving rise to the complaint.
3. Any changes to the Regulations shall be announced in the form in which the Regulations have been initially made available to the Participants, whenever possible 7 days in advance.
